About Shihan Andrew Young

For those of you that know Shihan Young, he needs no introduction. For those of you that don't know Shihan Young:

Taken from

<http://bujinkanninjutsu.info/index.php/dojo-a-instructor/64-bujinkan-onmyo-dojo-uk-shihan-andrew-young>

Andrew was born, raised and schooled in England. In 1988 he moved to Japan and began to train extensively at the Bujinkan Dojo under Hatsumi Soke and the Japanese Shihan (masters). Andrew was fully resident in Japan until 2005, a period of 17 years. Andrew has studied martial arts since the late 1970s and, as a member of the English Shukokai Karate national squad, has competed at national and international level. Cross training in many martial arts disciplines led to a chance meeting and the desire to train in the Bujinkan system, which at that time was new to the UK. His training in Bujinkan brought him to the London Taikai in 1987 where he met Hatsumi Soke for the first time.

He achieved 2nd kyu in the 'Japanese Language Proficiency Test' taken at Tokyo University after taking lessons full time for two years from 1988 to 1990. Andrew's fluency in Japanese enabled him to secure the position of official translator for Quest Publications, which is the producer of Hatsumi Soke's videos and DVDs

Active in the Bujinkan Dojo since 1984, he has presented seminars in the USA, Canada, Australia, New Zealand and Japan as well as throughout Europe. He achieved 10th dan Shihan status in 2000 and was one of the first westerners resident in Japan to do so. He is currently ranked 14th dan.

Andrew's other interests include a passion for falconry and hawking. He was the International Relations Director for the Japan Hawking Society. Also, in the past he supported 'Shady Oaks'; a charitable organisation for sufferers of cerebral palsy, by organizing and participating in fund raising activities
